

Preventive care is a specific group of services recommended when you don't have any symptoms and haven't been diagnosed with a related health issue. It includes your periodic wellness exam (check-up) and specific tests, certain health screenings, and most immunizations. Most of these services typically can take place during the same visit. You and your health care provider will decide what preventive services are right for you, based on your:

- Age
- Gender
- Personal health history
- Current health

What is preventive care?

Preventive care can help you detect problems at early stages, when they may be easier to treat. It can also help you prevent certain illnesses and health conditions from happening. Even though you may feel fine, getting your preventive care at the right time can help you take control of your health.

What is not considered preventive care?

Once you have a symptom or your health care provider diagnoses a health issue, additional tests are not considered preventive care. Also, you may receive other medically appropriate services during a periodic wellness exam that are not considered preventive. These services may be covered under your plan's medical benefits, not your preventive care benefits. This means you may be responsible for paying a share or all of the cost depending on your plan, including deductible, copay or coinsurance amounts.

What is covered under preventive care?

Many plans cover preventive care at no additional cost to you when you use a health care provider in your plan's network. Use the provider directory on myCigna.com for a list of in-network health care providers and facilities.

See the following pages for the services and supplies considered preventive care under most health plans. Coverage for services recommended specifically for "men" or "women" is provided based on the anatomical characteristics of the individual and not necessarily the gender of the individual as indicated on the claim and/or an enrollment form.

These preventive health services are based on recommendations from the U.S. Preventive Services Task Force (A and B recommendations), the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) for immunizations, the American Academy of Pediatrics' Periodicity Schedule of the Bright Futures Recommendations for Pediatric Preventive Health Care, the Uniform Panel of the Secretary's Advisory Committee on Heritable Disorders in Newborns and Children and, with respect to women, evidence-informed preventive care and screening guidelines supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration. For additional information on immunizations, visit the immunization schedule section of Evidence of Coverage. This document is a general guide. Always discuss your particular preventive care needs with your doctor.

Some plans choose to supplement the preventive care services listed above with a few additional services, such as other common laboratory panel tests. When delivered during a preventive care visit, these services also may be covered at the preventive level.
